

Wellness and wellbeing at home: The new Aroma Diffuser AD 625 made of bamboo is a stylish home accessory

Neuss, 06.12.2017. Particularly during the time of year when it is dark and cold, we would like to make it pleasant and cosy indoors. It is not just traditionally high season for atmospheric lighting and fragrances now, in December, because of Christmas. It has been proven that fragrances allow us to brighten up our mood a little, improve our wellbeing and positively influence our spirits. The MEDISANA aroma diffusers are wellness and wellbeing for the senses. The new Aroma Diffuser AD 625 made of bamboo is also a decorative eye-catcher in any living environment. It is particularly convincing due to its simple and modern design and is a stylish accessory without visible operating elements. With its state-of-the-art ultrasound technology, the Aroma Diffuser AD 625 generates a fine mist for, through which the scent is evenly and subtly distributed throughout the entire room. Whether it is balancing and calming or stimulating and revitalising – there are no limits to your own imagination with the selection of the fragrances. Through the microfine atomisation, the AD 625 achieves high effectiveness for scented oils. It is also quiet and energy-saving and switches off automatically when the tank is empty. In conjunction with the gentle, changing wellness light in six colours, a completely individual pleasant atmosphere is created in your own four walls – the basis for more quality of life and health.

All MEDISANA aroma diffusers are available from specialist retailers and at www.medisana.de.

The new Aroma Diffuser AD 625 costs EUR 79.95 RRP.
